Lighting exercises

In collaboration with the Marie-Louise Bogart School

For half a day pupils of Marie-Louise Bogart school had class in rooms lighted by projectors, spotlights and a disco-ball. The installation was made with teachers and pupils using party material from the place. For a colouring exercise in the nursery class, children chanted in order to automatically turn on the light of the sound-sensitive projector. In the elementary class, the teacher was scanning the blackboard with a pocket torch to look for spelling errors.
