The hospital in plainclothes

In collaboration with the medical team of the Loos-Haubourdin Hospital Group (GHLH)

At the hospital, the uniform crystallizes many issues such as hygiene, hierarchy, skills, identification of the medical team. After heated debates and divided opinions on this subject, the managers achieved an agreement for a window of time to experiment by having the hospital staff wear plainclothes. Tuesday, April 4th, 2017, from 11:00 am to 2:20 pm, the nurses, doctors, physiotherapists, assistant nurses, administrators and technicians borrowed polos, shirts, sweats, and joggings pants from the linen department, or dressed up in their formal outfits (suits, wedding shoes, etc.) to wear while working.
